

WOLVES ABOUND IN COUNTRY SOUTHWEST HARMON TOWNSHIP

ANIMALS HAVE BECOME ESPECIALLY BOLD IN COMMITTING DEPREDACTIONS.

FOLLOWED ONE MAN ALONG ROAD

Plans Are Being Made For An Organized Hunt To Kill All Wolves There.

Farmers in some parts of this county are being reminded of pioneer days on the prairie when the wolves howled around the little log cabin and it was not safe for the children to stray far from the door in the wintertime when the big shaggy gray beasts were desperate with hunger and slunk at the timber's edge for a chance.

There have been several nights this week when the farmers living around Hahnemann have been kept awake nights by the devilish howling of the wolves and night before last one man started walking to Hahnemann and found that the wolves were trailing him so closely and howling so terribly that he turned and beat a hasty retreat for the barn where he saddled a horse and went to town horseback.

The dogs of the neighborhood are "licked." One dog has been killed and within a couple of nights a big collie was severely cut and mangled in an encounter with the wolves. The wolves are daring and commit their depredations in the front yards of the farm homes.

Plans are under way for a wolf hunt with a pack of hounds and plenty of men and it is hoped that it will be possible to rid the neighborhood of the animals. The hen roosts of that part of the county are being depopulated and the turkeys are also very popular with the wolves. Sheep also are suffering.

Hahnemann is about on the Lee-Whiteside county line, west of Harmon.

L.S. GRIFFITH IS NOW LEE CO. SOIL ADVISOR

MENABBE MAN ENGAGED TODAY BY EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE LEE COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

WILL UNDERTAKE WORK AT ONCE

The Lee County Soil Improvement Association has signed up with L. S. Griffith of McNabb, Putnam county, Ill., as official "Agricultural Expert" for Lee county. The details of the deal were completed today, after an all day session held by the executive committee in Dixon yesterday. Mr. Griffith, who will come to Lee county to take charge of the work, with headquarters in Amboy, is a young man of great ability. His record is exceptionally fine and he is given the full endorsement of the Illinois State Board of Agriculture, which must pass on all county experts before federal financial aid will be extended to that county.

At present Mr. Griffith is operating a farm near McNabb, Ill., and assisting his father in the scientific breeding of corn and the handling of seed corn. Mr. Griffith is married and will move his family to this county. He has gained some note throughout the state because of lectures on soil and seed problems he has delivered all over Illinois.

STONE IS VICTIM OF TRAP SET FOR ROOT

SENATOR ENDS EFFORT TO "EXPOSE" NEW YORK SENATOR IN COREAN CASE.

CONDITIONS WERE NOT THE SAME

Washington, D. C., Dec. 24—Senator Stone of Missouri, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, today walked into the trap which, on Monday he set for former President Roosevelt and ex-Senator Root of New York.

The senator was compelled to get up on the floor of the senate and announce that he would not attempt to answer Mr. Root's attack on the administration. He had announced that he would answer Mr. Root tomorrow.

On Monday Mr. Stone introduced in the senate a resolution requesting the secretary of state to transmit to that body a copy of the correspondence which passed between Mr. Root and the representatives of Japan and Korea at the time Japan violated the integrity of Korea in 1904.

It was his intention to draw a comparison between the attitude of former President Roosevelt and Root, then secretary of state, towards Korea, and President Wilson's attitude toward Belgium at the time Germany invaded that country.

Calls Whole Affair Off.

Secretary of State Lansing today sent the Korean correspondence to the senator. It indicated, to Senator Stone's chagrin, no comparison between the Korean-Japanese situation and the German invasion of Belgium. On the other hand, it showed that Korea itself had made it impossible for the United States to take any action in its behalf.

Senator Stone decided to call the whole thing off, giving as his excuse the fact that it might be dangerous for him to talk now because of the tension between the United States and Germany.

The administration's faux pas in the Korean matter is the talk of all Washington tonight. It is sharing attention with the difficulty into which the president has gotten himself with the government at Berlin over the armed merchantmen question.

LEARN NO DETAILS OF STRANGERS DEATH

CORONER'S JURY RETURNED AN OPEN VERDICT OVER MAN KILLED AT NELSON

The inquest over the body of the unknown man who was killed in the Northwestern railroad yards at Nelson on Tuesday afternoon was held Wednesday afternoon at the coroner's morgue, where the body had been taken. Coroner Stephan arrived on an afternoon train and the following jury was empaneled: Chas. Eastman, foreman; John Vaile, Fred Salzman, Avery Manges, Curtis Rice and Pete Akeman. Testimony was given by railroad men who found the body, but no details of the accident were learned. The jury returned an open verdict. Unless information concerning the victim's identity is obtained before Friday the body will be buried in Oakwood cemetery.

SCORE OF INSPECTORS LOOK FOR HAZARDOUS CONDITIONS IN DIXON

MEN, HEADED BY FIRE MARSHAL BENNETT, WORKED IN CITY TODAY.

MASS MEETING THIS EVENING

Everyone Is Invited to Lecture By Mr. Bennett at Court House This Evening.

A score of fire inspectors and members of the Illinois Fire Prevention association arrived here early this forenoon and made a tour of the city in the interest of a campaign of education of the causes and dangers of fire and methods of preventing it. The men were divided into squads and they visited all the manufacturing plants, schools, churches, halls, motion picture theatres and business houses.

During the day State Fire Marshal W. H. Bennett made his headquarters at the city hall, where he directed his men and received reports. Accompanying him was First Assistant Fire Marshal F. R. Morgaridge. This afternoon at 1:30 o'clock Mr. Bennett gave a talk at the south side high school building, his talk being illustrated with stereopticon slides. A talk was also made to the high school pupils of the north side by one of his assistants.

Mass Meeting Tonight.

This evening at 8 o'clock a free lecture will be given in the circuit court room at the court house by Mr. Bennett. One thousand feet of motion pictures will be shown, the film being a fire drama entitled "The Lessons of the Flames." In connection with the lecture a complete report of the number of inspections made during the day in the city will be given together with faulty conditions found.

The Illinois Fire Prevention association is represented as follows:

T. M. Hogan, president. The following members: Wilson Myers, C. A. Cummings, F. W. Cummings, G. W. Omley, M. D. Looney, C. G. Mowrey, G. T. Johnson, E. S. Merrill, W. K. Maurell, R. C. Sherman, J. A. Longfeller, James J. Johnson, C. O. Bray, A. E. VanDehenter and J. W. Bauer.

MRS THOS. EUSTACE DIED IN SYCAMORE

WELL KNOWN DIXON LADY PASSED AWAY AT DAUGHTER'S HOME THERE.

Dixon friends will be shocked to learn of the sudden death of Mrs. Thomas H. Eustace of this city, who passed away this morning at 9 o'clock in Sycamore, Ill. The funeral will probably be held in Dixon on Saturday.

Mrs. Eustace lived in Dixon for many years. Her maiden name was Katherine Tears. Besides her husband, she is survived by two daughters, Annie Eustace of Sycamore and Mrs. E. T. Schuler of Gadsden, Ala., and by a sister, Mrs. Nettie Thomas, of Canton, Pa. She was a member of the Episcopal church. Miss Annie Eustace is an instructor in a seminary in Sycamore and her mother and father moved from Dixon to that city in September of last year to be with her during the school term. Mrs. Eustace has been ill for some time but it was not known that her illness was serious. She was an especially intellectual woman, with a delightful personality, and her death brings sorrow to many hearts.

Announcement of complete funeral arrangements and obituary will be published later.

PORTUGAL TAKES GERMAN SHIPS

(Associated Press)

A bottle has been picked up by a yacht in the North Sea, which contained four messages from Commander Uhle of German Zeppelin L-19, which was wrecked after a rain on England January 31st. The messages are addressed to the Commander's parents, his wife and his son, and they state that the motors of the aircraft had failed, the ship was dropping and the crew was drowning. It is believed the Zeppelin was damaged by British or Dutch defense guns. The captain of a British trawler had refused to rescue the Germans as they outnumbered his crew.

THINK POISONER WAS IN DEKALB THURSDAY

BUSINESS MAN THERE CERTAIN MISSING ANARCHIST WAS IN HIS STORE.

SAW PICTURE; REMEMBERED

DeKalb, Feb. 24—Was Jean Crones, the alleged anarchist who is accused of knowing something about the poisoning of the soup at the banquet to Archbishop Mundelein in Chicago on Feb. 10, in DeKalb on last Thursday night?

A well known and thoroughly reputable business man of this city says that he believes he was; that he was in his place of business and had some work done, remaining there for some time.

The local man had read about the case but had not had a chance to see Crones' picture. In the papers until this morning. Upon seeing the cut in the papers he recognized the man immediately as the one who had come into his place on Thursday night to have some work done.

The features were the same and there is little doubt in the local man's mind that the man is the one sought by the police of the entire country. The local police were notified but as the episode occurred last Thursday it is likely that the man had a chance to get out to San Francisco by this time if he so desired.

They are inclined to think that the man was mistaken as the chances are that Crones is being harbored in some of the bigger cities where there are colonies of anarchists and from where their ramifications extend to all parts of the country.

The business man however is certain that he is not mistaken in the identity of the man who spent nearly half an hour in his place of business and says that he had a good chance to give the guest the "once over." He said that the man acted peculiarly not unbuttoning his coat and glancing about furtively when anyone entered the place.

ANDERSON PLEADED GUILTY TO MURDER IN HENRY CO. TODAY

THREW SELF ON COURT'S MERCY WHEN ARRAIGNED FOR KILLING ROY LENOX.

SENTENCE DEFERRED BY JUDGE

However, Punishment Will Probably Be Fixed By Judge Graves During This Week.

(Special to Telegraph)

Cambridge, Ill., Feb. 24—Frank Anderson today appeared before Circuit Judge Emory C. Graves in Henry county circuit court and pleaded guilty to the crime of murder. He had previously confessed to the murder of Roy Lenox of Dixon on Oct. 19, and today when brought up to make his official declaration, he threw himself upon the mercy of the court and pleaded guilty. He was represented by Attorney A. G. Harris of Dixon and Charles Sturtz of Kewanee, former states attorney of Henry county.

Sentence This Week.

Judge Graves did not pronounce sentence but it is expected that he will do so some day this week.

The murder of Lenox, the Dixon man, by Anderson, was one of the most cold-blooded killings that was ever known in the history of Henry county. The Dixon man was attacked as he lay on the ground asleep in Anderson's roadside camp. The murderer battered his skull in with an axe, searched his pockets for money and valuables and then carried the dead body for several miles and dropped it in an abandoned well, which he covered up. The body was in the well for nearly two months, when it was found on Dec. 12 by a hunter.

Bessie Tracey, the girl whom Anderson pretended to marry and who thought she was his wife, did not appear in court when Anderson pleaded guilty. She has been absolved from all connection with the crime. The girl was fourteen years old when the supposed marriage ceremony was performed and she is but seventeen years old now.

DIXON VIEWS BRIGHT SPOTS IN BIG FILM

SCENES OF DIXON AND VICINITY ESPECIALLY NOTEWORTHY IN PICTURE.

OPERA HOUSE CAPACITY TAXED

Dixon opera house was filled to capacity Wednesday evening, the Lincoln Highway pictures proving an especially interesting feature. The films, showing interesting scenes along the great national road from Newark, N. J., to San Francisco, were excellent, while the views from Dixon and vicinity were the bright spots of the film.

The entrance of the autos into the city, the presentation to the highway officials by Miss Elizabeth Owens, the Elks' club, Mayor Schmidt, Lee Co. Consul A. B. Whitcombe, the business streets of the city, views of Lowell park and the beautiful scenery along Rock river were shown in the Dixon views. The pictures of Dixon are surely a good advertisement for the city.

The highway movies are worthy all of the nice things that have been said about them. They are a wonderful argument in favor of the nation-wide boulevard and demonstrate that the people in the communities through which it passes are exhibiting an interest in the movement.

NOSES.

The nose is the most prominent human feature. It stands boldly out from the middle of the face like the prow of a battleship, and while it is not handsome in some so accustomed to it that a man without a nose attracts more attention than an actor with a hair-cut.

The nose is used to strain dust, cinders and microbes out of the air before it is taken into the lungs, and also to extract the odors from said air and submit samples of them to the brain for inspection. Owing to this last duty, it is more enjoyable to have noses in some localities than in others. In the orange groves of California a nose is a great source of pleasure, but on a trip through the stock-yards of Chicago it is a nuisance. Like the ear, the nose should be fitted with check valves, so that it could be thrown out of gear when desirable.

Noses vary greatly in architecture. Among the most prominent varieties is the Roman nose, which is a stern, uncompromising beak, shaped like a ship's rudder. The "pug" or retroussé nose is also firmly fastened on a great many people who would never think of specifying it in an order. It is a small nose which creeps down un-tentiously from the forehead, and leaps joyfully upward at the southern terminus, giving the owner a pert and saucy expression, which may not coincide with his disposition worth a cent. The Grecian nose is noted for its beautiful, straight lines and classic design, but it must be noted that men with Grecian noses do not run for office any faster than men with nondescript wood-splitters. There are also flat, spreading noses, weird, wandering noses and large, meaty proboscides. Nature is very careless both in designing and affixing noses, and has managed to get about ninety per cent of them on crooked. Moreover, many noses have defective flues and are badly plumbed, causing grief and distress to their owners.

Because the nose always precedes the human face into trouble, it is usually a great sufferer in combat. It is a very poor weapon of offense, yet reckless owners are continually trying to knock their opponents down by hitting them on the fists with their noses.

Noses usually come in two colors, red and white; the latter are much more highly esteemed, though men will often spend years of time and a great deal of money in coloring a nose until it gleams like a red signal beacon in the darkness. It is generally conceded, however, that while on the whole the effect produced is weird and picturesque, it is not worth the trouble and expense.

The Navy League Of The United States

The Society Which Seeks To Insure The United States Against The Possibility of an Invasion

In the light of current history it is folly to say that this country may not be drawn into war, and criminal to neglect its adequate defenses. If this country is to be attacked, its greatest strength lies in its isolation—in 3000 miles of water that must be crossed before injury could be wrought.

Our logical defense, therefore, is a navy sufficiently powerful to hold command of the sea and block the ocean pathway against would-be invaders.

In our democracy national policies are adopted because they represent the united demand of a majority, and majorities are able to make their influence felt only when organized.

An overwhelming majority of the American people have expressed their selves in favor of adequate defense. The Navy League seeks to concentrate the weight of this majority behind a national policy which will give us certain security. It calls upon every citizen to co-operate. We will tell you how.

Dixon believes a preparedness. Since Mr. Lewis' talk at the Y. M. C. A. two weeks ago, in which he told us concisely the needs of our navy and the danger we are in through lack of preparedness, nearly fifty of our best professional and business men and women have joined. On the streets, in the clubs, the stores and the churches, one can see people wearing the little gold and blue buttons with the letters "N. L." in white, which proclaim to the world that the wearers believe in preparedness—not for war, but against invasion.

Will you not join and help organize Dixon to do its part in securing insurance against the possibility of invasion and disaster.—Contributed. Tomorrow we will explain just what the Navy League is.—Contributed.

Representative Igoe was another who told Senator Stone sentiment for reporting the McLemore resolution, warning Americans, was strong.

Move Causes Excitement. Reports of the visit of the Missouri delegation caused much excitement on the floor. Representative Flood, chairman of the foreign affairs committee, conferred with Majority Leader Kitchin, who soon afterward hurried to Speaker Clark's office.

Senator Gore of Oklahoma announced that he would introduce today a resolution to prohibit American citizens from traveling on armed merchant vessels of belligerent nations. Relations between the United States and Germany became more strained upon receipt of the German reply, which does not give the assurances asked for regarding attacks on merchant vessels.

Germany's reply not only does not discuss the United States request for a reiteration of the pledge that she will abide by international law in her submarine warfare, but merely seeks further discussion, and asks the United States to define what it means by a merchant vessel armed for defense.

Ask More Petrolite Facts. Austria has asked the United States for additional information on the protest against the attack by an Austrian submarine upon the American tanker Petrolite several weeks ago. Such information as this government has will be furnished promptly. The American consul at Shanghai, China, submitted a partial report to the state department on the recent seizure of thirty-eight Germans aboard the American steamship China by a British warship. The report fixed the location of the incident as "ten miles off shore."

Lowell Park - - It's Trees

The largest tree in the park is a black oak (Quercus Velutina.) The growth around it has been cleared away so it stands out fully revealed in all its majesty. It is in the dale back of the well-house. There are other fine specimens in the play field south of the woodcote and at the entrance, though none of them are so large as the one in the dale. In fact, this tree is of unusual size for this locality. The trunk diameter is 25 or 30 inches. The limbs are stout and the head wide and spreading. The bark is dark grey to blackish, very rough, broken by deep furrows into thick ridges which are further divided by cross fissures, giving an appearance of irregular block-like strips and is especially roughened at the base of the tree. The inner bark is orange-yellow and intensely bitter. This, too, is used for tanning. The twigs are reddish brown, sometimes mottled with grey. The buds are egg-shaped or conical, large and long, narrowed to a sharp point, generally five sided. The acorns mature in the second year, are single or in pairs, sessile or short stalked. The nut is oblong, light reddish brown. The thin, deep cup has a woolly, fringe-like border. This tree has been successfully introduced into England.

Near the entrance and along the open edges of the bluffs are some bur oaks (Quercus Macrocarpa) in the open this is a tree with a broad, round top, thick, spreading limbs and numerous, often drooping branches, growing from forty to sixty feet high, trunk diameter, one to three feet. The bark is flaky, resembling that of the white oak but darker and with ridges. The twigs are stout, yellowish brown, sometimes with corky ridges. The buds are conical or broadly egg-shaped, sharp-pointed, or blunt, reddish brown, covered with pale wool, lateral buds flattened against the twig. The fruit matures the first year, is usually single. The nut is oval, covered with pale down. The cup is thick, rather top-shaped, enclosing from one-half to the entire nut and with a distinct fringe.

Along the south fell, in the small cross ravines near the summit, and along the top of the main slope are a few chestnut oaks (Quercus Primus) This is a small tree, seldom exceeding 25 to 30 feet in height, the trunk one to one-and-a-half feet. The trunk is tall and straight or divided rather low down into large spreading limbs forming a broad, open head, sometimes broader than high. The bark is brown to black, deeply fissured into long rough ridges but smooth on the young trees. The twigs are stout, light orange or reddish brown. Buds are narrow, pointed. The bud scales are light chestnut brown, slightly hairy. The fruit matures the first season, is short stalked, single or in pairs. The nut is shiny, light chestnut brown.

nearly cylindrical. The cup, thin and deep, covers about one-third of the nut.

The Red Oak (Quercus Rubra) grows along the upper part of the lowland and lower slopes and larger ravines. This grows from 50 to 85 feet tall; trunk diameter two to six feet. The trunk branches rather higher up than the white oak and forms a narrow, round topped head, it has less of the gnarled aspect. The bark on young trees and upper parts of older, is smooth greyish brown. In older trees it is broken into shallow furrows with dark brown, flat-topped ridges. The twigs are medium, stout to slender, reddish to greenish brown. The buds at the widest part above the base suggest a short stalk to the bud; then continue to a sharp point with rusty hairs at the extreme apex. The fruit matures in the autumn of the second season, single or in pairs, sessile or short, thick stalk. Nut is egg-shaped, broad base, and narrow, round apex, dark chestnut brown, cup flat, shallow saucer shape, rim somewhat contracted and encloses about one-fifth of the nut. The tree was introduced into England in 1769 and is much prized there.

Just recently a Shingle or Laurel oak (Quercus Imbricaria) has been discovered beyond the south end of the dales. It is coked with other trees now but they are to be cleared away. Providence has been kind in giving us this tree for it is one of the most beautiful trees we have and which cannot be transplanted, more is the pity, so we will thank the fates that put it in our woods, for they are rare as far north as this. It is not so attractive in winter, having an uncouth form. It needs its thick, glossy, tufted foliage. The bark is light brown when young and smooth. As it grows older it is scaly. The branches are slender, dark green and shiny at first, later becoming dark brown. The buds are light brown, egg-shaped. The acorns ripen in the autumn of the second season and have short stems, solitary or in pairs, almost spherical. The cup is covered with light, red brown downy scales and covers one-half to one-third of the nut.

There is little time left for a study of the trees in their winter aspect. Soon a wonderfully beautiful and indescribable mist, a thing intangible, evanescent, will be seen hovering over the oaks—the harbinger of spring and the opening leaves with their matchless colors—such delicate chromatins—harmonize with the flowers until they cannot be separated and the exquisite unfolding of the two combines in one effect, an effect so beautiful that one easily fails to separate its parts, or to see which of the mass of soft pink, grey, yellow or green, is bloom and which of it is leafage and then the beauties of the winter will be hidden in the mass of summer green.

Attended Polo Wedding

Mrs. Siebolt of Nelson and Mrs. Ralph Hendrix of this city were among the many guests at the wedding of Miss Abbie Electa Waterbury and Lloyd Ellsworth Stover, which occurred at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Waterbury, who reside near Polo, on Feb. 16th. Mr. and Mrs. Stover will reside on the Wilson farm near Polo.

Young Men's Class

The Young Men's Alliance, Class of Grace Evangelical church met Monday evening with Benjamin Bunnett. The regular business session was held and the lesson study taken up. Light refreshments were served in the course of the evening, and an agreeable social time was enjoyed.

At Sterling Dinner

Misses Joy Stitzel and Edna Shank of Dixon were among the guests at a dinner given as a surprise for Miss Helen Rosgren of Sterling by her parents on Tuesday. Washington's birthday traditions were carried out in the decorations.

Honor Miss Robinson

Miss Hazel Robinson was honored Tuesday evening with a miscellaneous shower tendered by the members of the Philathea class of the Evangelical Sunday school. The shower was a surprise, and certainly was a delightful success. Many pretty gifts were given Miss Robinson, who is to become the bride of Clarence Lenax of Palmyra some time in the not distant future. Refreshments were served during an enjoyable evening enlivened with merry chat and music.

Box Social

A cordial invitation is extended to everyone to attend a basket social to be held at the King's school, two miles south of Zion church, Friday evening, Feb. 23rd. An excellent program will be rendered previous to the sale of the baskets. The ladies attending are requested by the teacher, Miss Estella Lievan, to bring baskets with lunches for two.

Visiting Parents

Frank B. Murray of Blue Earth, Minn., who has been quite ill of the grippe is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Murray of W. Third street, while recuperating. He expects to stay for a number of weeks and visit old friends. He is a son-in-law of J. W. Wadsworth of Harmon.

The Ladies of St. Paul's Lutheran church will serve chicken noodle dinner and supper in connection with a bazaar at the church Saturday, Feb. 26; dinner beginning at 11. Everybody come. 4512

Blackburn-Lannen Wedding

With nuptial high mass Wednesday morning at 8 o'clock the marriage of Miss Margaret Josephine Lannen, daughter of B. C. Lannen of Dupree, S. Dak., and John Joseph Blackburn, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Blackburn of Nelson township, was solemnized at St. Patrick's church. Rev. Michael Oley officiated. Miss Anna O'Rourke of Rochelle, a friend of the bride, and the groom's brother, William Blackburn, attended the bridal couple, who took their places at the altar to the strains of marital music from the pipe organ played by Miss Mary Bresnahan. The bride was becomingly gowned in a suit of blue with a jaunty little n costume, and carried a white prayer book. The bride's attendant wore a suit of old rose with a hat of the same shade.

After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served to the relatives of both families at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Mary O'Rourke of this city, with whom the bride had made her home for some time. Cupids and hearts formed the table decorations. A dainty breakfast of several courses was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Blackburn will take a brief eastern trip, and upon their return, will be at home on the Burns farm near Nelson, after the 1st of March.

The bride has been one of the most successful teachers, having taught in Lee and Ogle counties. The groom is the son of prominent folk of Nelson township, and a capable, upright young man. The best wishes of their many friends are theirs for a happy, prosperous life.

Out of town guests at the wedding included: Attorney Thomas E. Lannen of Chicago, brother of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Blackburn and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Fitzsimmons of Nelson township, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Powers and family of Amboy.

Surprise Mrs. Jeffers

Some friends, learning that Frances Decker Jeffers as well as George Washington, had a birthday Tuesday, decided to help her celebrate, and went to spend the evening unannounced, taking Mrs. Jeffers entirely by surprise. Quickly recovering from her surprise she gave them a hearty welcome. The evening was spent with games, fancy work, and chat. A tempting supper was served at a late hour.

Honor Birthday

A few relatives gathered at the home of Herman Missman yesterday to call his attention to the fact that he was having a birthday. Two excellent scramble meals, dinner and supper, were enjoyed together by the company, which included Mr. and Mrs. Missman, Arthur Missman, Mrs. Minerva Philipps and daughter Elizabeth and Mrs. Nellie Potter and daughter Florence.

Surprise Mrs. Witzleb

Mrs. Otto Witzleb of North Dixon was pleasantly surprised Monday evening by eight ladies who came to assist her in celebrating her birthday. They brought their supper and a merry time was had discussing events of the day and the good food. During the evening Mrs. Witzleb was presented with a silver meat fork. Cards were enjoyed after supper.

EAT WITHOUT FEAR OF INDIGESTION OR SOUR ACID STOMACH

Instant Relief! "Pape's Diapepsin" ends your stomach trouble forever.

Wonder what upset your stomach—which portion of your food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt; if sour, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn tumors; head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little Pape's Diapepsin and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapepsin occasionally keeps this delicate organ regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapepsin which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it digests food and gets things straight, so gently and easily that it is really astonishing. Please, for your sake, don't go on and on with a weak, disordered stomach; it's so unnecessary.

HOW TO GET RID OF CHRONIC DANDRUFF

The only sure way to get permanently rid of dandruff is to remove the conditions that cause it and then keep the hair and scalp in a clean, healthy, vigorous state so dandruff will never return. This bears shampooing, which merely remove the dandruff for a few days at most. Rowland Bros. are now strongly recommending Parisian Sage, a harmless, inexpensive and quick acting preparation, that is guaranteed to act directly on the cause of dandruff and entirely remove it or the purchase price will be cheerfully refunded.

Here is a test no one should fail to try. Get from your druggist a package of Parisian Sage. Rub a little of it into the scalp with the finger tips and see for yourself how the dandruff disappears, the hair stops falling out and all itching immediately ceases. Nothing hurts the hair more than dandruff so why not begin using Parisian Sage today and be forever rid of it?

Woman's Club

The Woman's club will meet at Miller hall Saturday, Feb. 26th, at 2:30. The Department of Literature has the program in charge and have been very fortunate in securing Prof. H. H. Hagen, Superintendent of the North Dixon schools, to give an address, the subject to be "The Long and the Short." Every member should feel it a privilege to hear this talk. Miss Florence Staekpole will give a vocal solo and Misses Eleanor and Alice Coppins piano and violin numbers. The hostesses are: Mesdames Stauffer, Nichols and Reynolds.

Delightful Party

Mrs. Fred Wagner entertained a two tables of five hundred yesterday. The house decorations were in keeping with Washington birthday traditions. A three course luncheon was served from a large table in the dining room, which had its decoration a centerpiece composed of a large brass basket containing red flowers. The favors were silk flags, and flags were used profusely about the house. The affair was a most delightful one.

Campfire Girls

The Sinissippi Campfire girls were entertained at tea very delightfully last evening by Miss Lucille Fry.

Served as Ring Bearer

The little granddaughter of Mrs. Margaret Buckaloo of this city, little Margaret Delisse Buckaloo of DeKalb, served as ring bearer at the wedding of her aunt, Miss Gladys Wakeman Spear, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Spear of Rock Falls to Edward Mitchell Pease of Bergen, N. D. The wedding was a very beautiful one, the color scheme, pink and white, carried out in roses and hyacinths. Mr. and Mrs. Pease will reside in North Dakota.

G. A. R. Sewing

Mrs. Sadie Bowers entertained the G. A. R. Circle this afternoon at its final sewing in preparation for the bazaar.

Rebekah Thimble Party

The thimble party give at I. O. O. F. hall Tuesday afternoon under the auspices of the Rebekah lodge, proved a most enjoyable affair. Nearly 60 guests were present, including a number from Sterling and Polo. A most enjoyable program was rendered while the guests busied themselves with their needlework. Later tea was served.

The hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion in flags and bunting, red carnations and fern leaves. The dining room, where tea was served, had received a similar treatment. The program was an almost impromptu affair, and was very delightful. Edward Fischer rendered a reading, Mrs. W. P. Kent sang the Star Spangled Banner and America, the audience joining in the chorus. There is nothing of the hyphenated American about Mme. Kent, though she retains a bit of delicious French accent. Mrs. Samuel Koontz, a recent addition to Dixon musical circles, was thoroughly enjoyed in two vocal selections, Mother Macree and The Little Grey Home in the West. Her superb soprano voice is hailed with delight as a very welcome addition. Miss Clara Hasselberg gave a pleasing reading. Cards were enjoyed following the serving of the tea.

Drama Club

Mrs. W. J. McAlpine entertained the Drama club Wednesday.

Entertained at Luncheon

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Major entertained at luncheon today Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Bailey.

At Luncheon

Mrs. Jason Duis entertained ten ladies at luncheon last evening.

Peoria Ave. Reading Club

The Peoria Avenue Reading club will meet Monday afternoon with Mrs. Camp.

A paper on South America will be read by Mrs. Batchelder, written by our consul to Peru, who spent five years in South America.

The paper was written for a Chicago literary club, and the Peoria Avenue club is fortunate in securing it, as that country is their study this year.

All members are urged to be present.

Old Folks' Concert

An Old Folks' concert will be given this evening in the gymnasium of the Y. M. C. A. Songs of the olden times will be given by members of the Presbyterian church who participate dressing in the costume of years ago.

With Bridge

Mrs. John Crabtree entertained this afternoon with bridge.

Wed at Court House

Wednesday afternoon about 3 o'clock Miss Dorothea E. Bathel of St. Joseph, Mo., and Royal W. Weightman of DeKalb were united in marriage by Judge John B. Crabtree. The couple returned to DeKalb on the afternoon train.

Wed in Dixon

St. Paul's Lutheran parsonage was the scene of a quiet wedding this morning when Miss Annetta Martha Semmler, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Semmler of Reynolds township, and John O. Cordes, a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Cordes of Ogle county, were united in marriage. Rev. F. D. Altman, pastor, read the service. The couple were attended by Miss Bertha Kaecker and Frank S. Vaupel of near Ashton. The bride was becomingly gowned in her dark blue traveling suit. A dark blue hat trimmed with a white ostrich feather was worn. Her attendant wore a handsome light blue satin gown and blue hat. After a honeymoon trip in the south Mr. and Mrs. Cordes will make their home on a farm near Ashton. Both the bride and groom come of prominent families in their respective neighborhoods. Mrs. Cordes is a relative of Conrad Gonnemann of this city.

Surprised

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Stauffer of Pennsylvania Corners were pleasantly surprised Tuesday evening by a group of friends. An oyster supper was served. Those from Dixon included Mrs. Anna Nett and daughters, Misses Florence and Lena; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sprout and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Nettz.

Palmyra Mutual Aid.

The first anniversary meeting of the Palmyra Mutual Aid was held on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Frank Beede of Palmyra. The beginning of the society by a band of thirteen ladies was recounted, the first meeting having been held at the home of Mrs. Ralph Johnson of Palmyra on Feb. 21, 1911, when the society was organized with thirty members. Eighty members are now engaged in the work for the needy, which was the original design of organizing. The dinner served at noon commemorated

MOTHER! GIVE CHILD "SYRUP OF FIGS" IF TONGUE IS COATED

If cross, feverish, sick, bilious, clean little liver and bowels

Children love this "fruit laxative" and nothing else cleanses the tender stomach, liver and bowels so nicely.

A child simply will not stop playing to empty the bowels and the result is, they become tightly clogged with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour, then your little one becomes cross, half sick, feverish, don't eat sleep or act naturally, breath is bad, system full of cold, has sore throat, stomach-ache or diarrhea. Listen, Mother! See if tongue is coated, then give teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the system, and you have a well, playful child again. Millions of mothers give "California Syrup of Figs" because it is perfectly harmless; children love it, and it never fails to act on the stomach, liver and bowels.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs" which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

the anniversary in its birthday cake with five candles. Another cake bore the words, "Fifth Anniversary." Washington birthday motives, cherries, etc., further decorated the table.

The regular business session was held with reports of the work of the year. A program followed consisting of a piano solo by Miss Myrtle Schuck and a reading by Mrs. Bert Beede, a vocal solo by Mrs. Louis Bryan, a piano duet by Mrs. LeRoy Buhler and Miss Beth Williams, and a reading by the president, Mrs. M. J. Cleary, entitled "The Ladies' Aid Alphabet."

Baptist Aid Meeting

The women of the Industrial Dept. of the First Baptist church had an unusual meeting today. They gathered at the home of Mrs. James Leu noy, 401 Crawford avenue, and a scramble dinner was in readiness at noon when about 20 enjoyed the good things to eat.

There were five unexpected guests who came unasked and uninvited, but were there just in time for dinner. Hungry? Yes, as wolves.

These men who invaded the peaceful dinner were W. H. Winn, Roy Miller, M. Anlys, Frank Pratt and Rev. G. W. Stoddard.

After dinner the women were soon busy with needle work, while the men returned to their down town work.

During the afternoon the women discussed informally what other aid societies were doing to make money. Several related their experiences and observation in other cities before leaving in Dixon.

Mrs. Katherine Ballou ably assisted her mother, Mrs. Lenson, in making the guests welcome, and while they were there for work, yet all had a most delightful day.

Home Baking Sale

The ladies of the St. James church will hold a home baking and candy sale at Sullivan's drug store Saturday.

Quilting Party

Mrs. Roy Baron entertained at a quilting party yesterday. Dinner was served to the guests at noon.

Moose Dance

The regular Thursday evening dance of the Moose lodge will be held this evening at their hall. A cabaret singer will feature this occasion.

Guest of Mrs. De Pay

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Hawley of Elgin will be here Saturday to visit for a few days with Mrs. William DePay.

Entertaining

Mrs. Wm. Thompson of Bluff Park entertained this afternoon for her sister, Mrs. Johnson of Aurora.

Vaupel-Kaeker

The wedding of Miss Bertha Kaecker of Bradford township and Frank F. Vaupel of Reynolds township took place this afternoon at the parsonage of the Evangelical church at 2 o'clock, the ceremony being performed by Rev. John Dixon. The young couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. John Cordes, at whose wedding they performed a similar service earlier in the day. The bride's gown was a handsome pale blue sat in with which was worn a hat of blue. After a visit with Ambrogio friends Mr. and Mrs. Vaupel, representatives of fine families of the eastern part of the county, will make their home in that section on a farm.

Interpretative Dancing

Miss Beatrice Howell has organized a class of little girls in fancy dancing.

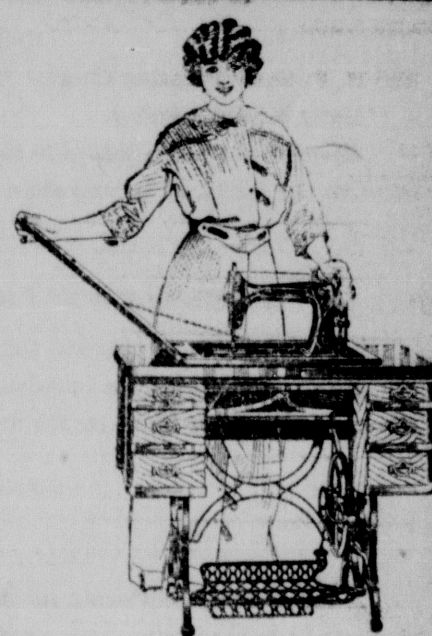

GERMANY'S NEW BUDGET BIG
It Will Reach 5,500,000,000 Marks—Customs Receipts Dwindle.

Berlin, Feb. 24.—Germany's next ordinary budget, including 2,000,000,000 marks interest on war loans, will reach at least 5,500,000,000 marks, according to the estimate of Privy Councillor Behrman, writing in the Hamburger Nachrichten. The previous highest budget—that of 1913-14—reached only slightly about 3,500,000,000 marks.

As the receipts from customs and other sources will show a sharp reduction, Herr Behrman reckons that the fiscal year beginning in April will require at least 3,000,000,000 marks of new revenue for current expenditures outside of the war.

Henry Wallace's Funeral Friday.
Des Moines, Feb. 24.—The funeral of Henry Wallace, eighty, publisher of Wallace's Farmer and noted for religious and social betterment work, particularly pertaining to farm life, who dropped dead from apoplexy while waiting for the laymen's missionary convention to open the evening services, will be held Friday afternoon, probably from the First Methodist Episcopal church.

More Americans Going to War.
Toronto, Feb. 24.—Three additional battalions of the American legion, one each in Ontario, Winnipeg and Vancouver, are to be recruited, beginning probably in a week or two, according to an announcement by the militia department.

A GENTLEMAN'S CLOTHES.

A tailor-made gentleman must have $2000 worth of clothing, exclusive of what the haberdashers call "gents' furnishings," tells the Louisville Courier Journal. It must include an $80 white Tuxedo suit for warm months, when multitudes of common persons content themselves with blue serge and defy anyone who suggests that dog-day temperature and "dressing" in the evening are to be considered in conjunction by persons outside of a lunatic asylum. It must include a blanket coat to be thrown over the shoulders of the golfer—by his valet, presumably—as he is making the nineteenth hole, and at a time when scrubs and leathers are thinking of going into the club after a drink. Such a coat can be had at $65 if one must needs be economical. A man who would be a gentleman in winter must have a top coat lined with mink skin or Persian lamb. Hot polloi wear coats lined with "muskrat," "coon" or pretty nearly anything else with hair on it at from $40 to $100. A gentleman's fur coat costs $300. If it were sold at $299.99 he would not buy it and hope to remain a gentleman.

A gentleman must have a morning riding suit and an afternoon riding frock. He would be a "man" merely or a "person" if he should be seen in the riding suit at 12:15 p. m. or in the riding frock at 11:59. But a gentleman knows that instinctively, and is in no danger of making mistakes.

A gentleman has ten overcoats. Should he not also have a light raincoat for light rains, a mist coat for mists and a cloudburst coat for cloudbursts? But, as the tailors do not particularize in the matter of raincoats, it may be that the gentleman remains in his club or in bed when it rains. Or does he wear a shower bath robe?

A part of the day was devoted to discussion of the advisability of recommending pink corsets for men, but "no action was taken."

Action will be awaited with nerve-consuming interest by all gentlemen and by all who want to be gentlemen. Unadvised, a man might buy a half dozen or so mauve, cerise, roan or flea-bitten-gray corsets only to find next day that watermelon pink is the only shade which a gentleman may wear. His corsets would then be a dead loss. No man other than a gentleman would wear a corset. They would not fit the women of a gentleman's family, and you couldn't give 'em away.

THE SPOOK OF MILITARISM.

The population of the United States on January 1 last is estimated at 101,208,315 by the census bureau. The armed forces of the United States, exclusive of the national guard organizations controlled by the 48 states, is 105,032 men—on paper, and including 5912 colonial troops. Actually the war department at this moment can not muster more than 70,000 white troops.

This means that less than one man in a thousand is under arms. A glance at the proportion between the population and the armies of two of the countries now on the rim of war-ridden areas will show how slight is the danger of militarism if our proportion were raised to five soldiers for every one thousand civilians by the creation of a federal army of 500,000 men. It will also show the scale on which some of the smallest neutral countries have responded to the call of military necessity.

Holland, with a population of just under six million, has about one hundred thousand soldiers under the colors, guarding her neutrality. That is to say, one out of every sixty persons in the Netherlands is in the service of his country as an armed defender.

Switzerland, with a population of 3,781,430, has 250,000 under the colors. Switzerland is not a military nation, with vital foreign problems to be solved. It is purely defensive. Yet one of every fifteen Swiss is under arms.

The vast drain upon the human resources of small countries is the result of conditions beyond their control—the same sort of conditions which would force the United States into a war. One Swiss out of every fifteen is a soldier; one Hollander out of every sixty is under arms—for the country's defense.

And yet gentlemen who profess to love peace point solemnly to the danger of militarism if five out of a thousand Americans were armed for the preservation of peace.—New York Mail.

THE UNEASY TAX SYSTEM.

Before the annual state farmers' institute at Decatur a couple of days ago, Mr. George C. Gale delivered an address on the pending state tax amendment. He put the matter before the farmers and the people of the state in a strong way. He spoke in part as follows:

"The Illinois tax system is a school for dishonesty, with the state for teacher and every tax-payer a possible pupil.

"The future success and prosperity of the Illinois farmer depends fundamentally on a tax system which will encourage individual land owning. The present system of taxation actually discourages the acquisition and ownership of land. It will require an amendment to our state constitution to change it. The people will have the opportunity to make the change by their votes on November 7—the next general election.

"The present tax system has been abandoned in every European country, and in such of our sister states as Maryland, Pennsylvania, Georgia, Virginia, Michigan, Minnesota and recently by Massachusetts and Kentucky. New York, Connecticut, Rhode Island, Vermont, Delaware and some others never have had it in their constitutions. Iowa is better off than we are. The system was suited to the time when all property could be seen, and under modern conditions that kind of property is all that can be caught and taxed with certainty and severity.

"There is nothing uniform or equal in the present system. We are years behind the times. The system is dishonest as well as unjust, and it weighs heaviest upon those who are helpless and without time or resources to fight it. It will require a majority of all the votes cast at the next presidential election in November to carry this amendment. That means that all this summer every one of us must talk of it to our neighbors and help get a rousing big vote in the fall.

"There we can hope for real uniformity and real equality in taxation in Illinois, and not before."

Daddy's Bedtime Story

What Bibbly Wah Did to the Mahogany Banister

'Twas the Greatest Fun.

"Uncle Ben's nice old farmhouse was a wonderful banister of very old mahogany," daddy started off soon as two children stopped wiggling. "The wood it was made of had been brought from Africa by a Dutch trader who was a friend of Uncle Ben's grandpa. Clever woodcarvers had fitted the beautiful spindles, and the top rail was graceful and solid, polished by the hands of three generations of the family. Right here I wish you would always remember that mahogany trees sometimes grow to be 100 feet tall. They have beautiful leaves which grow in four pairs of tiny leaves on one stem and the prettiest yellowish white blossoms. They bear nuts the shape of a buckwheat kernel and the size of a pecan, nuts hard as a pebble and glossy black, with a charming orange colored cap on the stem end. They make interesting playthings, and Bibbly Wah always carried a few around in her coat pocket, along with the seashells that a Dutch captain used to send her."

"Tell us about the Dutch captain, daddy!" cried Jack. "One of the games the boys and Bibbly Wah loved best of all when they visited Uncle Ben over Saturdays and Sundays was to slide down the beautiful mahogany banister. When Anne was busy dipping tallow candles or making gingerbread men for Bibbly Wah and when Uncle Ben was fishing for pickerel over at Whist pond the three children always watched their chance to slide down this lovely old rail, which was so much prettier and smoother than any out in the big barn. You see, all the rest of the family loved the old rail so much that if the children had been seen riding on it they would probably have been set down in a straight chair for—well, quite a long time," daddy smiled. "They were rarely forbidden to do anything that was happy, but the mahogany banister was precious, you see."

"Well, one day Anne was out hunting a hen's nest in the hayloft that Hank Fritz had not been clever enough to find. She wanted to make some extra good ice cream for the children's Sunday dinner, and Uncle Ben was off way beyond Pond hill hunting some runaway calves. So the children slid and slid, their legs wide apart, their feet and arms out for balance, and when they struck the beautiful carved post at the bottom, off they bounded against the big white hall door. Oh, 'twas the greatest fun! Then suddenly Bobbie screamed, and Jim sat right down on the bottom stair and cried, for cut deep into the precious old rail was a straight, hard line dug right out of its old polished surface where the button on Bibbly Wah's little blue dress had gouged out a rut that may be seen there to this day," daddy finished.

SAXON ROADSTER $395

Most economical car to own

Long known as the "World's Economy Champion" Saxon "Four" holds all records for low upkeep expense. It actually cost less to maintain than a good horse and buggy.

Against every sort of test—under hardest handicaps—it has established an average operating cost of one fourth cent per mile per passenger—30 miles to the gallon of gasoline—100 to 150 miles on a pint of oil—3,500 to 5,000 miles on set of tires.

Women find it easy to drive Saxon "Four" because of its simple operation—its lightness—its flexibility—its short turning radius.

Men are won by its wealth of power, its speed, its rugged strength, its ability to carry you comfortably, quietly and swiftly anywhere larger cars can travel—and often where they can't. Come in today for a demonstration.

MANY BRITISH OFFICERS DIE

Official Casualty List Shows 7,157 Fatalities Since War Began.

London, Feb. 24.—Official casualty lists for the month of January show that the British army lost 310 officers killed during that month, 647 wounded and forty missing—a total of 1,024.

The casualties since the beginning of the war aggregate 23,087, of which 7,157 have been killed or died, 14,158 wounded and 1,772 missing.

Dutch Tank Steamer Lost.

TURKS EVACUATING
CITY OF TREBIZOND

Armenian City Emptied of All Valuable Stores.

Petrograd, Feb. 24.—Russian vanguards are within a few miles of Trebizond, and the capture of Trebizond is now but a few days distant, according to Tiflis dispatches.

Armenian refugees, fleeing from the Christian quarter of Trebizond, outside the walls, have arrived within the Russian lines. They reported that the Turks have been emptying the city of all its valuable stores since the fall of Erzerum, evidently planning no serious resistance.

"We are continuing the pursuit of the remnants of the Turkish army," said a statement from the war office. Announcement of fresh successes in the Caucasus, which brought enthusiastic demonstrations at the opening of the duma, was followed by the official statement that the Slavs have won skirmishes with the Austro-Germans on nearly every sector of the front from the Baltic to Roumania.

ESPAGNE CARRIES NO GUNS

Regarding Mrs. Hilton, Maybe She Told It Herself.

New York, Feb. 24.—The French liner Espagne, originally scheduled to sail Wednesday for Bordeaux, will get away Friday with thirty-four first cabin and fourteen second cabin passengers. General Agent Fagnat said that he wondered how an anonymous letter writer who warned Mrs. Banker Hilton, of 116 East Sixty-third street, not to sail by the Espagne had learned that she had intended to do so.

The Espagne has no guns to repel German submarines, and therefore the office of the line believes that she will be exempt from submarine attack without warning as she nears the coast of France after March 1.

GERMANS CAPTURE BRITISH STEAMSHIP

Looks Like Same Sort of Job as in Appam Case.

Madrid, Feb. 24.—An official dispatch from Santa Cruz, Tenerife, says:

"The steamship Westburn (British) entered this port for repairs, flying the German flag. She has a prize crew consisting of one officer and seven men on board, one of the men wearing a cap with the inscription 'S. M. S. Moeben'."

"There are 206 prisoners aboard the Westburn. These were taken from the British vessels Flamingo, Horacio, Clan MacTavish, Cambridge, Edinburgh and Belge and from the Belgian vessel Luxembourg. Eleven Spanish sailors are also aboard the Westburn."

The "Moeben" is assumed here to be the German raider "Moewe" which captured the British liner Appam, now interned at Newport News.

1915 CROPS PASS
ALL OLD RECORDS

Value of Farm Produce Reaches Total of $5,568,773,000.

INCREASES DUE TO THE WAR

American Farms Cover Greater Acreage Than Combined Area of Germany and Austria-Hungary, or 486,570 Square Miles—Value of Corn Crop Greater Than Any Other Product.

The nation's harvests this year have surpassed any ever before recorded. The value of the principal farm crops, based on prices paid to farmers Dec. 1, was announced by the department of agriculture in its final estimate as $5,568,773,000, making 1915 a banner year both in value and in production of crops.

The unusual situation of extraordinary production and high prices, probably never before so pronounced, is credited principally to the European war.

With the price of grain soaring as the war progressed American farmers began the season by planting greater areas to grain. The acreage of the principal crops this year aggregated approximately 486,570 square miles. That is larger than the combined area of Germany and Austria-Hungary.

Second Largest Corn Crop.

Corn was planted on 108,321,000 acres, the second largest area ever planted, and the harvest was 3,654,533,000 bushels, the second largest crop ever grown. Its value was $1,755,859,000, exceeding that of the previous most valuable corn crop by $33,000,000.

New records were made in production by wheat, oats, barley, rye, sweet potatoes, rice and hay, while tobacco closely approached its production record, 1,103,415,000 pounds, made in 1910. Each of these crops in addition established records as being the most valuable ever grown, except in the case of barley and tobacco.

Production of the first billion bushel wheat crop and the second 3,000,000,000 bushel corn crop were features of the year. Wheat acreage aggregated 59,803,000 acres, or 6,000,000 more than ever before. The yield was 16.9 bushels an acre, the largest acre yield for winter and spring wheat combined ever attained in the United States. The final estimate of production was 1,011,505,000 bushels, with a value of $939,302,000. The crop exceeded last year's, which was a record, by more than 120,000,000 bushels and by $50,000,000 in value.

Big Tobacco Harvest.

Oats, rye, potatoes, sweet potatoes and tobacco all were planted on record areas. Oats exceeded its record production of 1912 by 122,000,000 bushels and its record value of 1914 by $56,000,000. Barley production was 13,000,000 bushels more than the 1912 record crop and was worth $4,000,000 more than the former most valuable crop, grown in 1914. Rice passed the 1913 record by 3,200,000 bushels and its 1912 record value by $1,700,000.

Sweet potatoes exceeded by 14,000,000 bushels the 1910 record and were worth $3,100,000 more than the 1913 value record. Hay showed a 12,500,000 ton increase over the record crop of 1912 and was worth $55,000,000 more than the value record made that year. Tobacco, while growing on a record acreage, was worth $26,000,000 less than in the record value year.

The potato crop received perhaps the most severe setback of the year. Farmers planted a record acreage to potatoes, but the output was only 559,103,000 bushels. That was 61,500,000 bushels below the record year and 50,800,000 less than last year. The value of the crop, however, was $22,000,000 more than last year.

FIRST U. S. WAR BALLOON.

Work Begun on "American Zeppelin" at Portsmouth Navy Yard.

Work at the Portsmouth navy yard has commenced, under the direction of naval experts, on the construction of the first American war dirigible designed to carry offensive and defensive weapons. The American Zeppelin is to be 175 feet long, with a diameter of fifty feet. It will have powerful engines and dynamos.

The craft will be equipped with a battery of rapid fire guns. It will carry a score or more of men, with tons of equipment and provisions, and is designed to make long voyages.

All the latest ideas in air craft will be adapted to the new airship. It is the development of experiments with smaller dirigibles, and in its construction and rigging the American experts will try to correct the failings of the German, French and English air craft.

GERMANY'S BIG WAR COST.

Half Billion a Month and Going Up, Says Treasurer.

Despite the exercise of strict economy, it is costing Germany half a billion dollars a month to carry on the war. This estimate was presented to the reichstag by Dr. Karl Helfferich, secretary of the imperial treasury.

He warned his audience that these expenses are certain to increase and pointed out the necessity for a new vote of credit.

TO BANQUET BAILEY AT Y.M.C.A. TONIGHT

BOARD OF DIRECTORS TO GIVE AFFAIR IN APPRECIATION OF RETIRING OFFICIAL

The board of directors of the Y. M. C. A. will tender retiring General Secretary E. T. Bailey a banquet at the building this evening at 6:15 o'clock. During the time that Mr. Bailey has been in charge of the Association work in this city he has made a large number of friends and he will be missed from various circles. He expects to leave Monday for his new field of labor at Jackson, Mich., where he has accepted the general secretaryship of the Association. The board of directors, of the local association have not yet decided on a man to assume the secretaryship but have been in communication with a number. It was expected that a man would be here from Nebraska to look over the work but the association in which he is at present engaged induced him to remain in the western city. Physical Director Harry Major will look after the office until a permanent secretary is secured.

A. F. & A. M. SPECIAL.

Brown's Dixon Made Shoes

Never before have our customers so complimented a line of shoes as those that are now being made in Dixon.

Good material is but the beginning of good shoes. On the workmanship—on the thought that is put into the construction and finish—depends the finished shoe.

We say this because we feel that the people of Dixon should know it. They can't help but be proud of skilled workmanship—of conscientious, thoughtful workmen.

The City with the most skilled workers is a prosperous City, because such workers mean better habits—better living. Workmen who put thought in their work—put thought in their play are the best people for any City.

We greatly appreciate the skill of our Dixon employees.

LOWDEN OPPOSES FOREIGN ALLIANCES

POINTS TO WISE WORDS OF FIRST PRESIDENT UPON ENTANGLING RELATIONS.

UPHOLDS INTERNATIONAL LAW

Colonel Favors Adequate Preparedness Against Aggression in Washington Birthday Address Before Galesburg Business Men.

Galesburg, Ill., Feb. 23.—The Washington birthday address, under the auspices of the business men of this city, was delivered at the Galesburg club tonight by Col. Frank O. Lowden of Oregon, Ill. Colonel Lowden repeatedly quoted from the patriotic farewell address of the first president to sustain the points made by him against entangling alliances and in favor of preparedness for peace and the maintenance of morality. "There are men today who boldly assert," said Colonel Lowden, "that because international law has been violated by all the belligerents, we need no longer concern ourselves with international law. This assumes that the old rule of force, and force alone, must govern in relations between nations. It means that international morality is a chimera. It means that the great words—Good Faith, Justice, Sacredness of Plighted Word—stop at a nation's boundaries and are obsolete when applied to nations in their dealings with one another."

After quoting Washington's advice to "observe good faith and justice towards all nations," Colonel Lowden declared: "It has been gravely urged in some quarters that we should shape our course as, at the end of the war, to be in a position to divide with some other nation the trade of the world. Here materialism again speaks. If we listen to this selfish appeal, we will have abdicated our high position in the councils of the world. We have but one duty and that is to ascertain strictly what our rights and duties were under international law, as it existed at the outbreak of this war, and then insist upon our rights and perform our duties, absolutely indifferent as to whether or not it shall profit us in the end. It is peculiarly the mission of America, which was founded upon law, to insist upon the principle of law in international relations. Listen again to this wonderful address: 'But even our commercial policy should hold an equal and impartial hand; neither seeking nor granting exclusive favors or preferences.'"

War of Alliances Raging.
"We have heard often of recent years, and we shall hear often in the future, of permanent alliances, either with some power of Europe or with the growing countries in South America. The specious plea will be made, and indeed has been made, that we can form an alliance which will preserve the peace of the world. When has an alliance ever had this effect? The greatest war in history which is now raging is a war between alliances. We are told that the Monroe doctrine can only be maintained by a Pan-American alliance. I do not know whether or not we can maintain the Monroe doctrine alone, but I do know that if we must depend upon the republics to the south of us for its maintenance we would better abandon it."

"This is our true policy to steer clear of permanent alliances with any portion of the foreign world." So says this great address of Washington, and these words are truer today than ever before in our history. No treaty of alliance can be made by which you can receive foreign aid without becoming responsible for foreign faults. In the maintenance of peace with other lands, we have got all we can do to answer for the transgressions of our own people, without taking upon ourselves the transgressions of others."

Talks of Preparedness.
After expressing his confidence in the loyalty of the citizens of this country, regardless of their nationality, Colonel Lowden turned his attention to the subject of preparedness. "We hear it urged," said Colonel Lowden, "upon the one hand, that we need no armaments of any kind and that preparedness for peace is altogether an illusion. The extreme peace advocate admits that we must police a city, but need not police the nation. So long as there are nations anywhere which have not written into their national ethics the golden rule, so long must this nation be prepared to assert its sovereignty by preparedness against foreign attack. It is urged by these extremists that if we settle all domestic disputes by recourse to law, so it is possible to settle all international disputes by resort to some Hague Tribunal. But the gentlemen who make this claim forget that under the most enlightened domestic code which civilization has evolved, there is reserved to the citizen the right of self-defense. This right goes to the extreme of permitting the citizen even to slay his fellow man in defense of his life or his property. Shall we ever arrive at an international law which shall deny to the nation what domestic law has never denied to the individual? Shall we say to the world, 'Invasion is if you will, devastate our land with fire and sword, ravish our homes, but you must make reparation in the great arbitral court of the world.'"

Favors Adequate Protection.
"Upon the other hand, there are those who would make of America a great armed camp. Panicked by the magnitude of the present war, they see nothing before us but a world in arms, and say that we must abandon our traditional stand upon war and be prepared to meet the nations upon every field of Mars. If this latter position is correct, democracy as a form of government has failed, because all the world knows that a one-man government is more efficient in war than any democratic form of government. These men also forget that if we are in danger now, we were in greater danger two years ago, for within that time every nation which could have possibly involved us in war, with any hope of success, has taken on all the enemies it cares to meet, and will not care to add to this list the United States. We have doubtless paid too little attention of late years to preparedness for peace, and now we should repair this neglect as promptly as possible, so that, if need be, we shall have adequate means of self-defense."

"Isn't there some ground between these extremes upon which Americans can safely stand? Isn't there some principle which was sound two years ago, which is sound today, which will be sound in all our future, upon which we can agree in this vastly important matter? Let Washington answer, in his farewell address. He there urges us 'to take care always to keep ourselves, by suitable establishments, on a respectable defensive posture.'"

"Guided by this principle, we shall not enter into competition with the nations of the old world in militarism, but we shall be ready, not only now, but always, as Washington said, to defend ourselves against aggression everywhere."

How To Get Rid of a Bad Cough

A Home-Made Remedy that Will Do It Quickly, Cheap and Easily Made

If you have a bad cough or chest cold which refuses to yield to ordinary remedies, get from any druggist 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth), pour into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Start taking a teaspoonful every hour or two. In 24 hours your cough will be conquered or very nearly so. Even whooping cough is greatly relieved in this way.

The above mixture makes a full pint—a family supply—of the finest cough syrup that money could buy—at a cost of only 54 cents. Easily prepared in 5 minutes. Full directions with Pinex.

This Pinex and Sugar Syrup preparation takes right hold of a cough and gives almost immediate relief. It loosens the dry, hoarse or tight cough in a way that is really remarkable. Also quickly heals the inflamed membranes which accompany a painful cough, and stops the formation of phlegm in the throat and bronchial tubes, thus ending the persistent loose cough. Excellent for bronchitis, spasmodic croup and winter coughs. Keeps perfectly and tastes good—children like it.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, rich in guaiacol, which is so healing to the membranes. To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex," do not accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded goes with this preparation. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Dramatic Notes

AT OPERA HOUSE
As a special feature attraction at the opera house, today, and tomorrow, Feb. 24th and 25th, B. S. Moss presents The Salamander, a $100,000 production adapted from Owen Johnson's greatest novel, a story of a lone girl's battle against the wolves of the city.

The story:
Dore Baxter, a little country girl, lives with her grandmother, who informs her that her dead parents were duped by a man named Albert Sassoon, a New Yorker, of unenviable reputation, known as The Wolf. Her grandmother's property to which she is heir, holds forth a promise of future wealth. The grandmother is about to show Dore the deed to the estate, when she discovers that it is gone. The shock kills her.

Dore is evicted by Sassoon's machinations, he having obtained the deed and claimed to have purchased the land. The lure of the city appeals to Dore, who determines to go there and find Sassoon. She encounters a party of traveling players, who take her to the city.

The angel of the company, Garry Lindaberry, wealthy and handsome falls in love with Dore. At a later date, the entire company, including Dore, are invited to a midnight revel by Sassoon.

Dore realizes that she has found her enemy, and the leading lady of the company, who is in reality Sassoon's wife, also plots revenge against him.

From this moment begins Dore's secret battle against Sassoon, whom she fights with her woman's weapons of beauty and seductive powers. How she plays with, tempts The Wolf, and yet escapes him, and lures him to his downfall is told in a series of artfully designed plots and counterplots, cleverly filmed and replete with action in every reel. At the finish Sassoon is betrayed by his confederate, Samuel Ludlow; Dore regains her property, and is united to Garry Lindaberry, having come unscathed through the flames of threatening lust.

FAMILY THEATRE.
Another of the series of productions by the Jesse L. Lasky Feature Play company in which Miss Blanche

Sweet appears as the star will be "The Secret Orchard," a photodrama based on the play by Channing Pollock, and founded on the novel by the same name by Agnes and Egerton Castle. It will be shown at the Family tonight.

In "The Secret Orchard" Miss Sweet will have opportunity for histrionic work that will call into play all the resources of her extraordinary talents. As the heroine she appears as a young woman ignorant of a pre-nuptial blemish on her character. By contrast to a natural sweetness and purity of personality her betrayal is the more keenly felt; or, as the dramatist has built the play, is the result of what appears almost to be predestination.

As a characterization, Miss Sweet has made Diane a most fascinating creature in whose ultimate happiness the audience readily responds in understanding the reasonable and happy conclusion of the play.

PRINCESS THEATRE

Tonight "The Homesteader," a two reel Centaur feature with Margaret Gibson in the leading role will be shown at the Princess theatre, assisted by Capt. Jack Bonivata and the famous Bostock animals. This feature abounds in thrills and excitement and a love story is followed throughout the entire film. Among other pictures a Novelty comedy entitled "A Janitor's Joyful Job" starring the inimitable "Babe Hardy" is also on the bill. The fourth reel is an American drama entitled "A Broken Cloud" with Vivian Rich and Alfred Vosburg in the leading roles, a society drama with soul-stirring incidents.

HER SISTER IS DEAD

Mrs. L. B. Cumins yesterday received notice of the death of her sister, Mrs. Lydia Martin, at Belmer, Ind. Mrs. Martin visited here a number of times and has many friends who will mourn her passing.

TALKED TO PUPILS.

Hon. J. P. Devine, state representative, delivered a very instructive lecture to the civics class of the Dixon high school Wednesday morning, explaining to them the mode of procedure of the General Assembly.

RESIGNS POSITION
Miss Vera Steacy has resigned her position at Woolworth's.

OBITUARY

MRS. LESLIE J. REES.

Helen Leona Unger was born in Mt. Carroll, Ill., May 13, 1892, moving to Dixon with her parents at the age of six months. She lived here until she was 12 years old, at which time her parents moved to Minnesota, where they resided one year, going from there to Eau Claire county, Wis., where she finished her common school education. She returned to Dixon in the spring of 1909 and entered the employ of the Watson-Plummer Shoe Co., continuing there until 1910 when she entered the Dixon Business College & Normal school. She completed a business course in that institution in July, 1911, graduating with high honors. For nearly a year after her graduation she held a position with the American Wagon Co.

She was married to Leslie J. Rees of Rockford July 4, 1912, residing in Rockford until Sept., 1914, when they returned to Dixon. Two children, Leah L., aged 2 years and 4 months, and Ina H., aged 7 months, were born to the union. They with the husband, father, mother and one brother survive to mourn her death.

MRS. SARAH SMITH.

The funeral of Mrs. Sarah Smith of Binghampton was held this afternoon at her home, Rev. George officiating and with burial at the local cemetery. The deceased was born in Devonshire, England, and was 76 years of age. She is survived by three children, Mrs. Levi Searls, George and Will, all of Amboy.

HENRY M. WRIGHT.

Funeral services for Henry Martin Wright, who passed away Tuesday at his home in Amboy, will be held Friday afternoon at 1:30 from the home. Rev. Appelmann will officiate. Interment will be in the Woodside cemetery at Lee Center.

Deceased was aged 65 years, 9 months and 24 days. He was born in Massachusetts and was a successful farmer, for a number of years residing on a farm north of Lee Center. Beside his wife he is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Schorr of Wauwung and Mrs. Charles Beckingham of Amboy. One daughter preceded him in death a number of years ago.

CHURCH MEETING

An adjourned meeting of the congregation of the Grace Evangelical church will be held at the church Friday evening at 7:30 for further consideration of the plans for rebuilding the church. Light refreshments will be served by the members of the building committee.

MISS VANN'S FUNERAL FRIDAY

Services Will Be Held at Morris & Preston's Chapel.

The funeral of the late Miss Alice Vann will be held Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the undertaking rooms of Morris & Preston on East First street, Rev. G. W. Stoddard of the Baptist church officiating.

ROBINS WITH US

Doesn't it seem good to have the robins with us again. They are already hopping and chirping about the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Martin of N. Dixon, the former home of the late Miss Louise Dixon, which, with its dense shrubbery and many trees is a favorite haunt of the birds.

INSPECTING PHONE BOARDS

Manager Louis Pitcher of the Dixon Home Telephone company, has returned from a trip during which he inspected switchboards in many of the larger cities of the state, preparatory to re-writing the specifications for the board to be placed in the local company's new building.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to publicly thank all our friends and especially the neighbors for their many kindnesses and words of sympathy and also for the beautiful floral tributes received, especially those from the employees of the bottoming room of the Brown Shoe Co., Room No. 3, and the filling room of the Borden Condensed Milk Co., at the time of the death of our beloved wife, mother, daughter and sister.

Mr. Leslie Rees and children.
Mr. and Mrs. Lee G. Unger.
Mr. Harry Unger.

Mrs. Eliza English, who is at the Katherine Shaw Bethel hospital, is improving rapidly.

RUSS AND BRITON GIVE PEACE VIEW

Militarism Must Be Crushed
Declare Premiers.

NOTABLE SPEECHES OF WAR

Asquith Says Belgium Must Be Restored and Compensated—Serbia Must Get Territory Back, Besides Other Territory Due Her—Sazanov Says Germany's Eyes Are Opening.

London, Feb. 24.—Not only must Belgium be completely restored, but Serbia must recover more territory than she has lost, and the military dominance of Prussia must be completely destroyed before England consents to peace. Premier Asquith declared in the house of commons.

Asquith's statement was made in reply to queries from Philip Snowden, labor member of parliament, and others for a statement of the terms on which England is willing to make peace. His statement, briefly made, was greeted with tremendous cheering.

In reply the premier repeated the pledge he made in the now famous Guild Hall speech of November, 1914, when he said that Belgium must be restored and the menace of Prussian militarism forever removed, and made an important addition to that pledge.

"Serbia must also recover more than she has lost and the military dominance of Prussia must be finally destroyed," he said.

His statement was interpreted to mean that England will insist not only that the Serbians recover the whole of their conquered kingdom, but other Balkan territory which they believe is rightfully theirs.

Sazanov Is Optimistic.

Petrograd, Feb. 24.—Addressing the Duma, Foreign Minister Sazanov reviewed the war situation in a most optimistic way, although he declared it was more difficult now than ever before to foresee the end of the world struggle.

"The imperial government remains unshaken in its determination to continue the struggle to conquer the enemy," he said. "This war is the greatest crime of high treason against humanity. Those who provoked it bear a heavy responsibility and today stand entirely unmasked."

"The instinct of self-preservation demands putting an end to the ruthless egoism and passion for plunder which are the distinctive characteristics of Prussianism, and they must be crushed once for all. Otherwise the sacrifice of the allies would be vain."

"The allies have brought about a complete union without the sacrifice by any one of them to a particle of independence or personality. With the enemy it is different. Germany's allies have become vassals. It is hard to speak any longer of Austria-Hungary, Turkey and Bulgaria as independent states. The clutching grasp of Germany has seized the power in their armies and all branches of administration."

"The signature by the five allied powers to the treaty to conclude peace in common proves the falsity of absurd rumors of a separate peace."

POPE PROTESTS AIR RAIDS

Mark's Not in Use for War.

Rome, Feb. 24.—Pope Benedict has instructed the vatican nuncio to Vienna to inform the Austrian government officially that the tower of St. Mark's church in Venice is not being used for anti-aircraft defense purposes and to demand that the Austrian government give its reasons for the recent aerial raids on Venice with the object to avert further Austrian air raids on undefended Italian cities.

CUMMINS ENTERS 1916 RACE

Iowa Senator Files Affidavit as Candidate for President.

Des Moines, Ia., Feb. 24.—United States Senator Albert B. Cummins of Iowa filed affidavit with the secretary of state as a candidate for the presidency of the United States on the Republican ticket.

The affidavit was sent from Washington and was filed by John Jamieson, state binder.

Clark Is White House Guest.

Washington, Feb. 24.—President and Mrs. Wilson entertained at dinner at the White House in honor of the speaker of the house and Mrs. Clark. The diners included a number of the leaders of the senate and house, government officials, army and navy officers and Ignace Jan Paderewski, who later gave a piano recital.

Suffragists Post Highways.

Des Moines, Ia., Feb. 24.—Dr. Carrie Harrison Dickey of Cambridge, Ia., a bride of four months, has undertaken the task of posting the four big public highways of Iowa with metal suffrage signs, urging voters for the equal suffrage constitutional amendment at election on June 5.

THAT BACKACHE SPELLS DANGER

Action Today May Save Dixon People Future Misery

A bad back isn't a bad thing if it serves as a warning of hidden kidney disorders. Kidney diseases are frightfully common today. We overdo too much. We don't give the kidneys a chance to rest up, and while a bad back, some urinary disorder or occasional dizzy spell or a persistent headache may be the only outward sign, the kidney trouble that is behind it all may be overlooked or neglected. Put your signs to use. Take them as warnings. Fight off kidney weakness. It takes only a slight kidney disorder to start a case of fatal Bright's disease, from which 100,000 people in the United States every year prompt treatment at first—that's all that's necessary to keep kidney weakness from turning into gravel, dropsy, gout, heart trouble or Bright's. Use Doan's Kidney Pills—the oldest the most widely used, best recommended Kidney Pills. Forty thousand Americans recommend them publicly. Here's one Dixon case:

Mrs. J. Carley, 511 Spruce street Dixon, says: "My back was so sore that I couldn't walk erect and morn it was hard for me to get out of bed. Various medicines didn't benefit me and when a friend recommended Doan's Kidney Pills, I got some at Leake Bros. Co's Drug store. After taking two boxes, my back was strengthened and I felt better."

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Carley had. Foster-McBarn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

What the Peruvians Believed.

A unique idea of the future state was evidenced by a soap shop still to be seen in the ruins of Pompeii, the chemistry of soapmaking was not understood by us until about a century ago. Since then soap and armaments have become intimately associated with each other. For a long time soap-makers made no profit out of their "lyes." Now they extract from these byproducts glycerin, which, besides being a drug, food and "toilet requisite," enters into the manufacture of nitroglycerin and is the basis of dynamite and other high explosives.—London Spectator.

Mucilage to Stick on Tin.

Whosoever has tried to stick a paper label on a piece of tin knows how difficult it is. Here, however, is a recipe for a mucilage especially designed for this purpose and published by Nature: In 150 cubic centimeters of boiling water dissolve twenty grams of gum tragacanth and add a paste made of sixty grams of flour and ten grams of dextrine dissolved in forty cubic centimeters of water. Dilute the whole with 200 cubic centimeters of boiling water and add ten grams of glycerin and ten grams of salicylic acid. Boil for five minutes, stirring constantly.

Cutting Up Old Furs.

There is a knack of cutting up old furs with which all women are not familiar. The pelt should be turned wrong side up and the skin slowly and carefully cut with a sharp penknife, the blade penetrating the skin only and not touching the long hairs. Cutting fur with scissors destroys the beauty of the hair and wastes much of the pelt that might be saved by the penknife process.

Not All For Love.

Little Florrie—Oh, aunt, dear, don't you go yet, please. Aunt—But I must, darling. I should like to stay longer, and it is sweet of you to love your aunt so. Florrie—Oh, please, aunt, don't go yet. Mamma said she'd whip me as soon as you went.

Turkistan Lovers.

In Turkistan every wedding engagement begins with the payment of a substantial consideration to the girl's parents. If a girl flirts her lover the engagement gift has to be returned unless the parents have another daughter to give as a substitute.

SIX-MILE FRENCH FRONT SMASHED

3,000 Prisoners Are Taken in Big Drive.

HAUMONT GIVEN UP BY FRENCH

Berlin Reports Important Gain in Offensive on Western Front Piercing Enemy's Lines for Two Miles—Paris Admits Evacuating Village—Forest of Causes Retaken.

Paris, Feb. 24.—The battle of Verdun continues with growing intensity. It extends over a front of forty kilometers (twenty-five miles), and seven German army corps (280,000 men), are engaged. This announcement is made officially by the war office.

London, Feb. 24.—The crown prince has delivered the greatest smash against the allies' western front since the English lines were broken at Ypres last May.

In a mighty offensive against the French outer positions defending the great fortress of Verdun the Germans have captured nearly six miles and a half of French trenches, according to an official statement from Berlin. The German war office also reports the capture of 3,000 French prisoners and great quantities of booty.

By another forward drive the Germans have captured 700 yards of French trenches east of Heldwiler, in Alsace, the German war office announced. Eighty French prisoners were taken in this operation.

Great Army in Attack.

The French war office announced in a statement that the crown prince is hurling a great army against the French lines north of Verdun, on a front fifteen miles wide. No similar attack has been made by either side in the West in many months, excepting the French offensive in Champagne last September.

The battle is raging less than ten miles from the City of Verdun itself, on the east bank of the Meuse river. Berlin reported the Germans have hurled back the French on a wide front between the Village of Consenvoye, on the Meuse, and the Village of Azannes, eight miles east of the river.

Paris reports the heaviest fighting around the Haumont woods, just south of the Consenvoye-Azannes lines, indicating that the crown prince is attempting to blast a way through to the outer forts of Verdun.

Says Losses Are Enormous.

The German losses have been enormous, according to the French official statement, which quotes German prisoners as declaring that entire German battalions have been slaughtered.

The German infantry attack was preceded by forty-eight hours of continuous bombardment, which evidently wrecked the advanced French positions.

The crown prince is smashing southward, hoping to conquer the outer defenses of Verdun and bring up German 42-centimeters to lever the great fortress.

BERLIN BUTTER PLAN FAILS

New System Requiring Bread Cards Said to Favor Early Comers.

Berlin, Feb. 24.—The new system, according to which residents of Berlin must show their bread cards to be enabled to buy butter, has started off with little success, even the Berlin newspapers admit.

What the authorities desired was to avoid the necessity of the people's forming butter lines, which have given rise to unpleasantness and much discontent, especially on the part of people who, after waiting for hours in line, have been told that the supply of butter was exhausted in serving the first buyers.

First Special Session Recesses.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 25.—The first special session of the legislature recessed shortly before noon and recessed until Tuesday, May 9, to give the legislature an opportunity to consider the Glackin bill, which would permit the city of Chicago to loan any corporate fund to the board of local improvements.

Drys Win in Maryland House.

Annapolis, Md., Feb. 24.—By a vote of 5 to 4 the house committee on temperance decided to report the statewide prohibition bill favorably without amendments. Those who voted against the favorable report on the bill were city members.

Czar Offers Montenegro King Job.

Rome, Feb. 24.—Czar Nicholas of Russia has offered a nominal military command in Russia to King Nicholas of Montenegro, who already is honorary field marshal in the Russian army. The Montenegro king has refused the offer because of ill health.

Mexican Troops Quit.

El Paso, Tex., Feb. 24.—An intimation that most of General Cavazos' troops sent against Francisco Villa's forces recently surrendered and joined the rebel leader without firing a shot was contained in reports received from Chihuahua City.
